

Please help to preserve our farmland in Corryton! We moved to Corryton 27 years ago to escape traffic, noise and overcrowding and to enjoy beautiful country and nature, to raise our kids in a wholesome country atmosphere. Corryton is losing its appeal to local residents more and more everyday with the constant development. The roads cannot support the influx of new resident traffic, the schools are over crowded, redlights are now needful and being placed in our charming community, compromising the integrity of where we chose to put our roots down. 54 acres just sold surrounding our home on Rodgers Rd. in which there were at least 4 offers by local neighbors and farmers whose intent was to maintain the land to be used for farming. Unfortunately, the owner accepted the offer from a developer, who wants to divide the land into lots and sell. Wildlife will lose their habitat and farming neighbors will lose the peace and solitude of a beautiful country environment and will run the risk of the contamination of running creeks which their livestock use. Folks who live in Corryton who desire peaceful country settings will be moving further east into Grainger county, as the small community of Corryton risks being over-developed. and is losing its appeal and resources to support further development. Please hear the voices of local residents and vote against using our farmland, resources, roads and schools for another subdivision that we dont need.
